SYNOPSIS

On May 4, 2012, a brief surveillance was conducted near the RJW Transport facility.

DETAILS

On May 4, 2012, EPA [REDACTED], along with EPA [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] conducted a brief surveillance near the RJW Transport facility, located at 11240 Katherine's Crossing, Woodridge, IL. The area of focus was on the northwest corner of the parking area for RJW, which is also adjacent to two ponds.

[REDACTED] was able to view a large retaining wall on the northwest corner of the parking lot, which appeared to have brownish staining on it. This retaining wall is set below the corner of the parking area. In addition, some of the vegetation between the retaining wall for the parking lot and the northern pond appeared to be distressed, and brown in color. [REDACTED] also observed brown liquid at the base of the retaining wall.

[REDACTED] also captured five photographs of the area during the surveillance. These five photos are attached to this IAR.
